

Internships

In recent years, many large and small companies have actively recruited on our campus. Doing an internship during the summer is the best way to know whether you really like the Actuarial profession. In some companies, you do not need to have passed any exams. Summer positions provide students with valuable experience and excellent summer income.

You can arrange interviews for summer internships through the Career Development Center (Phone: 607-777-2400, LSG500 and LNG300) of Binghamton University. In this center you also can get information about careers, graduate schools, internships, or employers. For a small fee, you can get a very complete information on the interviews on campus for summer internships.
